

Health, Wellness, Beauty and Halal Expo 2011 starts today

KUCHING: People from all walks of life are invited to 'Sarawak Health, Wellness, Beauty and Halal Expo 2011' to be held at the Permata Exhibition Hall, Level 5 of Permata Carpark here from today till Sunday.

The expo is jointly organised by Eagle Interactive Sdn Bhd, State Health Department and Parkwayhealth Group. Admission for the expo is free.

This year's three-day event covers a wider scope of products and services.

It is set to be more exciting than last year's with a target of registering 10,000 visitors. About 46 exhibitors occupying 51 booths can be expected at the expo.

Most of them come from West Malaysia while two are from Singapore. Designed as a family event, many exciting, free concurrent activities have been lined up for family participation.

Today, Parkwayhealth Group will offer free bone scans, free medicated massage workshop for babies and young children, free health and wellness seminars, fitness demo by Level Up Fitness, Eco Enzyme making demonstration, children colouring and decorating contest as well as bandaging and CPR demonstration by Malaysian Red Crescent.

For tomorrow, visitors will again be able to enjoy free bone scans by Parkwayhealth Group, free medicated massage workshop for adults, free BMI checks, blood donation campaign and free health and wellness seminars.

On Sunday, members of the public are encouraged to come for free general health screening, free BMI checks by Parkwayhealth Group, free medicated massage workshop for babies and young children, free health and wellness seminars, Eco Enzyme making demo and children colouring and decorating contest.

Father's Day celebration activities will take place from 6pm to 8pm.

A "Father and Son Look-Alike" contest will also be held. Visiting fathers will receive goodies while stock lasts.

Lucky draws will be held daily at 8pm.
